Savor the scenic beauty of the sheltered coves of Marblehead's Little Harbor at the end of the mainland peninsula ~ where the town's early settlement began in 1629 – or earlier ~ with its stunning vistas over two off-shore islands and the waters of this tranquil and ecologically vital coastal zone and open space.

The tour will highlight the islands, the shoreline, and their stories, while discussing the area's early social history in the 1600s and 1700s, its development in the later 1800s, and current conservation.

The tours are led by Judy Anderson of Marblehead Architecture & Heritage Tours to celebrate the preservation of Little Harbor's two off-shore islands as natural open spaces in perpetuity, thanks to their 2017 & 1955 donations to the Trustees of Reservations, which manages nearly 120 properties in Massachusetts.

(Crowninshield Island (formerly Brown's) was given to the Trustees by Louise duPont Crowninshield in 1955 and Gerry's Island was donated by Ted and Julie Moore just last year. ★ A substantial preservation endowment for ongoing preservation of both islands was raised through contributions to the Trustees.)

There is no fee for the tours, but donations will benefit local outdoor open space (details at each tour). Last year, these tours brought $400 to the Trustees of Reservations toward an endowment for ongoing stewardship of the two islands. ★ The Marblehead Conservancy champions and supports the Trustees in their ownership and preservation of these two island gems in Little Harbor. These walks enhance that!
